

MANUAL TO ACCESSING INFORMATION (“Manual”)

PARTICULARS IN TERMS OF THE SECTION 51 MANUAL

This Manual has been prepared in terms of section 51 of the Promotion of Access to Information Act 2 of 2000 (“PAIA”) and updated in the light of the Protection of Personal Information Act 4 of 2013 (“POPIA”). The Manual applies to TriAlpha Investment Management Proprietary Limited (“TriAlpha”) and is intended

- | To give a description of the records held by and on behalf TriAlpha;
- | To outline the procedure to be followed and
- | To outline the fees payable when requesting access to any of these records in the exercise of the right of access to information, with a view of enabling requesters to obtain records which they are entitled to in a quick, easy and accessible manner.

1. Purpose of PAIA

PAIA is an act that was passed to give effect to the constitutional right, held by everyone in South African, of access to information which is held by the State or by another person and which is required for the exercise or protection of any right. Where a request is made in terms of PAIA, the body to which the request is made is obliged to give access to the requested information, except where the Act expressly provides that the information may or must not be released.

It is important to note that PAIA recognises certain limitations to the right of access to information, including, but not exclusively, limitations aimed at the reasonable protection of privacy, commercial confidentiality, and effective, efficient and good governance, and in a manner which balances that right with any other rights, including such rights contained in the Bill of Rights in the Constitution.

POPIA was enacted in November 2013, to promote the protection of personal information processed by public and private bodies. POPIA amended certain provisions of PAIA, balancing the need for access to information against the need to ensure the protection of personal information.

An official Guide has been compiled which contains information to assist a person wishing to exercise a right of access to information in terms of PAIA and POPIA. This Guide is made available by the Information Regulator (established in terms of POPIA). Copies of the updated Guide are available from Information Regulator in the manner prescribed.

4. Types of Records

a) Records available in terms of any other legislation

All records kept and made available in terms of legislation applicable to any of the entities listed in this manual and the financial services industry in general, as it applies to the specific environment in which the entity operates, are available in accordance with said legislation.

b) Records available on request

We set out below the subjects and categories of records that are, subject to access being denied as set out in the Act, available upon request for the purposes of the Act:

Records are held on the following subjects:

- a. Personnel records;
- b. Client-related records;
- c. Private body records; and
- d. Records in the possession of or pertaining to other parties.

(i) Personnel records

Personnel refers to any person who works for or provides services to or on behalf of the private body and receives or is entitled to receive any remuneration and any other person who assists in carrying out or conducting the business of the private body. This includes, without limitation, directors, executives, non-executives, all permanent, temporary and part-time staff as well as contract workers.

Personnel records include the following:

- | Any personal records provided to the private body by their personnel;
- | Any records a third party has provided to the private body about any of their personnel;
- | Conditions of employment and other personnel-related contractual and quasi-legal records;
- | Internal evaluation records; and
- | Other internal records and correspondence.

(ii) Client-related records

A client includes any natural or juristic entity, who receives services from the private body. Client-related information includes the following:

- | Any records a client has provided to a third party acting for or on behalf of the private body;
- | Any records a third party has provided to the private body; and
- | Records generated by or within the private body pertaining to the client, including transactional record.

(iii) Private body records

A private body's records relate to the body's own affairs and are considered to include, but not limit to:

- | Financial records;
- | Operational records;
- | Databases;
- | Information technology;
- | Marketing records;
- | Internal correspondence;
- | Records relating to products and services;
- | Statutory records;
- | Internal policies and procedures;
- | Records held by officials of the private body.

(iv) Other parties

The private body may possess records pertaining to other parties, including without limitation contractors, suppliers, subsidiary/holding/sister companies, joint venture companies, service providers.

The following records fall under this category:

- | Personnel, client or private body records which are held by another party as opposed to being held by the private body; and

- | Records held by the private body pertaining to other parties, including without limitation financial records, correspondence, contractual records, records provided by the other party, and records third parties have provided about the contractors / suppliers.

5. Requesting Procedures

A person who wants access to the records of any of the identified private bodies must complete the necessary request form.

The request form can be accessed on www.trialpha.co.za or www.sahrc.org.za. If a person needs assistance to obtain the form or on any other matter, please contact the Information Officer at the telephone number provided in paragraph 3.

The completed request form must be sent to the physical, postal or e-mail address provided in paragraph 3 and marked for the attention of the Information Officer.

The Information Officer will process the request and inform the requester of the fees (if any) that are payable and of the different procedures that must be followed until the request is finalised. A copy of the fee structure applicable to private bodies can be accessed on www.trialpha.co.za.

All the pertinent sections of the request form must be completed fully, failing which the process will be delayed while the Information Officer obtains such additional information.

Access to certain records may be or must be denied on the grounds set out in the Act.

Mandatory grounds for refusal include but are not limited to:

- | Information for the protection of the privacy of individuals;
- | Information for the protection of commercial information and confidential information of third parties.
- | Information privileged from production in legal proceedings;
- | Commercial information of the company; and
- | Research information

6. Remedies upon Refusal

The decision made by the Information Officer is final. Requesters who are dissatisfied with a decision of the Information Officer will have to exercise external remedies at their disposal.

Complaints to the Information Regulator

- | The requester or third party may submit a complaint in writing to the Information Regulator, within 180 days of the decision, alleging that the decision was not in compliance with the provisions of PAIA.
- | The Information Regulator will investigate the complaint and reach a decision - which may include a decision to investigate, to take no further action or to refer the complaint to the Enforcement Committee established in terms of POPIA. The Information Regulator may serve an enforcement notice confirming, amending or setting aside the impugned decision, which must be accompanied by reasons.

Application to court

An application to court may be brought in the ordinary course. For purposes of PAIA, any reference to an application to court includes an application to a Magistrates' Court.
